OSCAR SPICER HEADS JUNIOR R. C. COUNCIL

Oscar Spicer, Heidlersburg, a member of the Junior Red Cross council at Biglerville high school, was elected first president of the Adams County Junior Red Cross council at an organizational meeting Thursday night at the Gettysburg high school.

Formation of the county council was voted by delegates and teacher sponsors from Gettysburg, Biglerville, East Berlin, New Oxford, Littlestown and Delone high schools. About 45 attended the session.

Following adoption of a constitution a nominating committee comprising Ann Guise, Biglerville; Margaret Smith, Delone, and John Toddes, Gettysburg, was appointed by the presiding officer, Betty Bowling, of the Gettysburg council.

As a result of the nominating committee's report Spicer was named president; Barbara Bryson, Gettysburg, vice president, and Betty Rebert, Littlestown, secretary-treasurer.

Purpose of Council

As president of the county Junior Red Cross council, Spicer will attend the meetings of the Adams County Red Cross board of directors.

Miss Ruth Scott, Gettysburg, chairman of the Junior Red Cross for the county Red Cross outlined the purposes of the council. She said it would make it easier for the various councils to cooperate, would promote unity of action on projects requiring such unity, would discover needs for and stimulate service to the community and nation and serve to develop better human relations.

A number of delegates led discussions on various phases of Junior Red Cross work. Miss Bryson and Miss Guise conducted a discussion on the organization of the school council; Grace Elgin, East Berlin, and Spicer led the discussion on the advisability of a survey on community needs.

To Elect In April

As a result of that discussion a committee was appointed to make a survey and report at the next meeting of the county group, to be held in February.

Three meetings, the one held Thursday night, another in February and one in April, will be held by the county council, the members present decided. At the April meeting officers for the coming year will be selected.

Betty Rebert, Littlestown, reported on local community activities by describing a project now underway at Littlestown. In that project the members of the Junior Red Cross council there are collecting and shipping goods and clothing to

Secretary Marshall Calls For Frankness At London

London, Dec. 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall urged the foreign ministers council today to "drop generalities" and "try to find out what each delegation really has in mind" for settling peace terms with Germany.

Marshall attacked Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's almost daily demands for quick creation of a central German government and declared: "Any German government called upon to administer a Germany divided as it is today by the policies of the occupying powers would be a sham and a delusion."

Marshall led off today's council discussion on Germany's economic future and his prepared statement of 1,000 words was handed to reporters shortly after the meeting convened.

His declaration evidently marked the beginning of the long expected American effort here to determine whether there are solid chances for agreement on the future of Germany at this conference.

"The situation in Germany is a real one," he declared. "It urgently requires now—without delay—four-power decisions on several specific fundamental matters of substance. I ask for action on these points in order to end the present division on Germany."

The United States, Marshall declared, favors "the establishment of a provisional government at the earliest possible moment but we regard it as dangerous to the security of the allied nations and to the peace of the world as well as cruelly misleading to the Germans themselves to pretend that mere setting up of a central German government would result in healing the division of Germany."

Santa And The Good Boy

Chapter One

Mr. Sleek's Evil Plot

At the very top of the world is the North Pole and at the North Pole, as everyone knows, lives Santa Claus.

At the bottom of the world is the South Pole and there, as very few people know, lives—or, used to live—Mr. Sleek.

It is very odd that so few people have ever heard the name of Mr. Sleek for, in his time, he got around the world quite a bit and wherever he went Trouble went, too.

Everything that Santa Claus is, Mr. Sleek was the opposite. Where Santa is fat and jolly and kind, Mr. Sleek was lanky and sour and mean. He wore black suits and he never needed an overcoat because he was always so hot and bothered with hating people that he never felt the cold at all.

Yes, Mr. Sleek hated people and particularly he hated children.

Why this should be so I do not know. It may be because Mr. Sleek himself was never a child and did not understand children's ways. Or it may be because Mr. Sleek could not laugh and so it made him angry to hear children's laughter.

One Illegal Kill

When the heads were produced it was found that one was a legal buck, but that the other was shot illegally, authorities said. One deer was shot Monday and the other on Tuesday, Myers said.

McDannell, who is said to have sold his farm recently and purchased a house trailer, was charged with taking some of the deer meat to his trailer, near Washington, D. C. FRANCE HARRIED BY NEW STRIKE OF GOVERNMENT WORKERS TODAY

By MEL MOST

Paris, Dec. 5 (AP)—The French government, harried by crippling Communist-hatched work stoppages, ran head-on into another strike today when government employees began walking off the job.

The first immediate effect was to blackout electric power, halting factories, stopping the subways and choking off communications. Sailors and mobile guards moved into the power houses at once and got some of the generators going again, but Paris remained badly tripped.

The council of the republic, the upper chamber of France's legislature, was summoned to ratify the legislation passed yesterday by the national assembly, the lower house.

Second Power Failure

The new law is aimed at breaking strikes which have idled more than 2,000,000 workers for almost three weeks.

Police opened an investigation of a bombing late last night at the home of Communist leader Maurice Thorez in suburban Choisy-Le-Roi. A grenade exploded beside the house but Thorez was out of the city and there was only slight damage. No one was hurt.

Today's power failure was the second in Paris this week. Police cleared sitdown strikers from six plants Tuesday morning and got power on after a blackout of several hours caused by a strike of electrical workers.

This morning, the power failed at 8 a.m. (2 a.m. EST) but lights came back on in 45 minutes in some parts of the city in top priority buildings such as radio, telegraph and news wire centers. Power lines to major factories apparently remained down, however.

Paris Cut Off

The subway company said at first it had managed to get a few trains running at a slow pace only 30 minutes after the shutdown, but later announced that the first trains after the blackout did not move until 9:50 a.m.

Paris was isolated from all contact with the outside world for a time when radio and telegraph services failed because of the power shutdown and long distance telephone operators did not answer. Dial telephones continued to operate within the city.

The strike called to state and public workers is for a "token walkout" which is to end next Tuesday night. Some public workers were called out for five days, beginning today, others for two days starting Monday.

RADIO TROUBLE TRACKED DOWN

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Detectives of the radio wave have traced to Johnstown, Pa., the source of interference which has been disturbing communications of trans-Atlantic planes.

George S. Turner, chief of the field engineering and monitoring division of the federal communications commission, told a reporter today the interference was traced to an electronic heater used by a chair manufacturer in the southern section of Johnstown.

Turner said an FCC engineer reported that the company got in touch with the maker of the heater, used in a gluing process, and that the trouble is being corrected.

Turner said he did not know the name of the Johnstown firm, adding the interference "was completely innocent—that is, it was one of those things that happen from time to time in electronic devices."

It took the FCC's engineers and monitors less than three days, he said, to trace the source of the interference. Here's what happened: The Civil Aeronautics administration reported to the FCC on Monday that trans-Atlantic pilots were complaining of interference in the 6,000 kilocycle band.

ASK CONTROLS ON FUEL SUPPLY

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Oscar L. Chapman, Undersecretary of the Interior, pleaded with Congress anew today to give President Truman authority to ration and fix prices on coal and oil should the need arise.

Voluntary conservation measures may be all that the petroleum industry will require, Chapman said.

But as for coal, "We believe that transportation and export controls are necessary as a minimum," and "allocation and price controls should be available in reserve."

Chapman's testimony, prepared for the Senate-House Economic committee, followed similar pleas from other administration officials.

Chapman said the coal problem, essentially of a transportation nature, has been eased somewhat by recent coal car allocation actions by the office of Defense Transportation.

Continued improvement, he said, will depend upon extension of the ODT authority, due to expire February 29.

Investigate Ban On Xmas Carols

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer has directed an investigation of an assistant superintendent of schools' order that pupils of 23 Brooklyn schools may not observe the Christmas season in their classrooms with the traditional religious carols and symbols.

Assistant Superintendent Isaac Bildeer ordered yesterday that such observances of the season as Santa Claus are approved, but that "Christmas carols with reference to the nativity may not be sung, nor may decorations include religious symbols of any faith" in schools under his charge.

The mayor's announcement of an inquiry followed a sharp protest of the order by the New York State Council of the Knights of Columbus. Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, said the incident was based on a "misunderstanding."

Bildeer, meanwhile, explained he directed the principals of his schools to avoid religious expressions, including such carols as "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." He added: "I will not back down from this."

REPORT SURGERY FAILED ON THIEF

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5 (AP)—Millard F. Wright, 38-year-old convicted burglar who underwent a delicate brain operation designed to curb his criminal tendencies, is still "evasive, crafty and cunning," the behavior clinic of quarter sessions court reported today.

Wright, now serving a 2 to 12 year term for burglary, has been under the constant surveillance of psychiatrists since he underwent the operation—a prefrontal lobotomy—last spring.

"The clinic report labeled Wright a 'psychoath unable to adjust himself to disappointments and frustrations,'" and added: "When last examined Millard Wright was still evasive, crafty, cunning person that he had been before the operation. There was no noticeable alteration of his egocentricism. It certainly had not decreased."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—The other day Joe Louis received a check for $1,500 for a one-minute stint as a guest on a radio program. . . . Tonight he'll be paid off at a considerably higher rate for some work that likely won't be much harder—a title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott. . . . The bout figures to gross about $225,000 at the gate, breaking the Madison Square Garden record of $201,613 made back in 1927 by Jack Delaney and Jimmy Maloney. . . . Of this the champ will get 45 per cent of the net, plus a share of radio and television receipts. He'll have to shell out his manager's cut and the not inconsiderable training expenses, but if he's trying to break the by-the-minute record, he won't have to work very long. . . . This department figures that, in spite of bold predictions from the Walcott camp, that Jersey Joe will last about five rounds. Louis isn't in any hurry.

Public interest in the fight, top seats for which cost $50, stems from the feeling that this may be one of Louis' last appearances.

Louis and Walcott each is 33 and each is a negro. There the comparison ends.

Louis has one of the most brilliant of all fighting records. Walcott has been up and down through the years, and so doubtful of his claim to be matched with the champion that originally tonight's encounter was called an exhibition, until it was pointed out Louis' title was at stake no matter what it was called.

Louis, at 212 pounds, heaviest of his career by a few ounces, has about an 18 pound advantage over Walcott. He is two inches taller than Walcott's six feet, and has two inches more of reach.

Win or lose, Louis gets 45 per cent of the gate, or probably $100,000, and Walcott gets 15 per cent.

WALCOTT WIN WOULD RATE GREAT UPSET

By TED SMITS

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—Joe Louis risks his heavyweight championship for the 24th time in ten years tonight, but if Jersey Joe Walcott can take it away from him it will be one of the ring's greatest upsets.

Louis has nevertheless told intimate friends he wants to make the fight as short as possible, "maybe even one round."

His public prediction is a dignified "I will win."

A crowd of approximately 18,000 paying $225,000 is expected at Madison Square Garden for Louis' only fight of the year, with the main bout starting at 10 p. m., EST, and scheduled for 15 rounds.

The record indoor gate is $201,613 drawn by Jack Delaney and Jim Maloney February 2, 1927.

Both Negroes And 33

Public interest in the fight, top seats for which cost $50, stems from the feeling that this may be one of Louis' last appearances.

Louis and Walcott each is 33 and each is a negro. There the comparison ends.

Louis has one of the most brilliant of all fighting records. Walcott has been up and down through the years, and so doubtful of his claim to be matched with the champion that originally tonight's encounter was called an exhibition, until it was pointed out Louis' title was at stake no matter what it was called.

Louis, at 212 pounds, heaviest of his career by a few ounces, has about an 18 pound advantage over Walcott. He is two inches taller than Walcott's six feet, and has two inches more of reach.

Win or lose, Louis gets 45 per cent of the gate, or probably $100,000, and Walcott gets 15 per cent.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Elks Lauded at Memorial: Stressing the significance of friends remembering other friends, Dr. Fortenbaugh lauded Elks for honoring their departed members at the annual memorial exercises of the Gettysburg lodge held at the lodge room Sunday afternoon.

Rufus H. Bushman, exalted ruler of the lodge, presided.

District Attorney John P. Butt eulogized W. W. Cleaver, of Gettysburg, only member of the lodge who died during the year.

The Rev. Howard S. Fox gave the invocation and the Gettysburg college quartet sang several appropriate selections.

"Open House" at Coffman-Fisher's: Coffman-Fisher's department store has announced an "Open House" night Thursday at which time the general public is invited to visit the center square store.

The announcement states that there is "nothing to sell," the occasion being purely an "open house" occasion for the public to see the decorated interior of the store.

Local Hunter Shoots Bear: Four brothers who returned Saturday evening from a hunting trip to Centre county brought back with them a large 200-pound black bear and an 8-point deer.

The bear was bagged by Elmer Snyder, Buford avenue, on Wednesday, the last day of the bear season, while his brother, Lloyd Snyder, Littlestown R. 2, brought down his buck on Friday. Willis Snyder and Vernon Snyder failed to shoot any game.

Nurse Weds Local Man Thursday: Miss Orilla E. Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Fritz, Chambersburg, and nurse at the Annie M. Warner hospital here for five years, and Richard E. Dutera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. S. Dutera, Baltimore street, were married in Washington Memorial chapel, Valley Forge, Thursday, by the Rev. Dr. W. Herbert Burke.

Second American Store Is Opened: Large crowds attended the informal inspection of Gettysburg's new grocery, fruit and fish store, the American store, in the Masonic temple building, Wednesday evening.

On Thursday morning the new store was opened for business. The second American store is located in The Times building, Carlisle street.

Couple Marries: Miss Nellie E. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Miller, of Gardeners, and Adolph Yeska were married in Maryland on November 21. The newlyweds will reside in Philadelphia.

30-Hour Week Is Approved: Cincinnati, Nov. 29 (AP)—Under the leadership of President William Green, delegates to the national convention of the American Federation of Labor late Monday thundered their approval of a thirty-hour work week. The proposal met unanimous approval on roll call.

New Service Offered: Members of the Gettysburg motor club were made recipients of another free service with their membership in the local club by the announcement at the annual meeting in the Hotel Gettysburg auditorium, Tuesday evening by President Henry M. Scharf, that he had concluded arrangements whereby hail bond to the amount of $5,000 applicable in automobile cases will be included with all memberships.

Legion Sponsors Citizens' Band: The Gettysburg Citizens' Band is now being sponsored by the Albert J. Lentz post, No. 202, of the American Legion.

Fire Company Elects Officers: A. J. Hawn was elected president of the Bonneauville fire company at a meeting Thursday evening. He succeeds J. P. Staub.

Other officers chosen include Joseph A. Chrismer, vice president; C. J. Weaver, secretary; C. H. Smith, treasurer; Ambrose Myers, chief; L.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
HORIZONS UNLIMITED

It is not wise to sniff at any dream. There always will be sniffers, however. They sniffed at Henry Ford when he sought so hard to get people to give him enough needed money to go on with his dream of a car for the multitude. Those who didn't sniff, and joined him, retired as men of great wealth.

They sniffed at George Westinghouse with his air brake, at the Wrights, when they flying machine, at Durant, when he visioned half a million cars a year; and they laughed at the early attempts to reproduce the human voice, over a great distance, in a little box in one's home. I now have a machine in my possession that reproduces my talk, and it records it upon a tiny wire—and it plays back perfectly—miraculously!

The horizon of a great dream is unlimited. We have no idea what the genius of man will invent next. Women, in the home, now cook a meal in half an hour that formerly took two hours, or more, through the newly invented "fireless cooker." Science has worked out into small pills, the needed vitamins, so essential to health.

We are only in the infancy of what can be achieved in the air, by means of planes. The sailing ships have long been replaced with their huge transports and liners. Are they, in turn, some day to be largely replaced by great transports and liners in the air? The horizons of man's dreams remain unlimited!

The great crime committed toward the common man, in a dictatorship, is that his horizon is limited—but not so in a free democracy. There the humblest may rise to the highest of stations, taking great pride in his heritage. Farm boys become Presidents and world leaders. Opportunity knocks at their door—and the door is opened!

It was Robert Browning who said: "Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a Heaven for?" In a little book of these talks that I once had published—now long out of print—the late William Allen White, speaking of the aspiration born in us all, said this: "Every one expects to go further than his father went; every one expects to be better than he was born and every generation has one big impulse in its heart—to exceed all the other generations of the past in all the things that make life worth living."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Keep Discovering!"

THE SUCCESSFUL LIFE

His little girl, who wished a dress. Thought her father a success. And he wasn't known to fame. And to fortune had no claim. To the child upon his knee None seemed greater than was he.

She who knew his every whim Down the years was proud of him. Safe the little home they kept; Never needlessly she wept; Sharing all that had to be; None to her meant more than he.

Neighbors, watching day by day. Had no ill of him to say. Ask of him, and they'd reply They were glad he lived nearby. Though the scornful think them small, These are triumphs after all.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP
By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D. D.
Margaret C. Gold
III John

Memory selection: Imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God. III John 2.

How many Christians in these days before Christmas are attending Christmas parties in their various church organizations and confusing it with Christian fellowship? It is all very pleasant socially but it does not take the place of real Christian fellowship such as is described by John in the lesson. True Christian fellowship is the feeling of unity found in worshipping together in God's House and carrying on the work of the Kingdom. It is a good subject to consider in this Advent season when the whole world should be preparing their hearts for the coming of the Holy Child, the Prince of Peace.

The scripture passages consist of the entire third Epistle of John, a brief personal letter written to a certain man by the name of Gaius who was evidently a faithful and charitable member of one of the congregations near Ephesus. Very likely the church concerned was one that Paul had established. Thirty years later John, the Apostle gathered a group of consecrated workers who assisted him in preaching and carrying on the work of evangelism. There were no theological seminaries so the early Church leaders trained their own helpers. This letter written by John was not intended to be read in church but concerned certain private matters pertaining to church administration and some personal advice and commendation—things that the recipient would understand.

Witness of the Truth
Upon John rested the responsibility for the welfare of the different congregations and naturally there arose conflicts with other capable leaders on matters of church policy. However, it seems that Gaius represented a fine, gracious, loving and hospitable church member as contrasted with the man, Diotrephes, who wished to control and be important rather than to witness to truth. Demetrius is mentioned. He was likely one of the messengers sent by John who had observed Gaius. Friendliness, courtesy, kindness, and love for the truths that Christ taught—these are the secret of Christian fellowship everywhere. Every church door should be open to receive the stranger or visiting pilgrim. The church must extend her influence far and wide so that all men can enjoy the great fellowship of Christian faith.

Questions on the S. S. Lesson
1. To whom did John write his third letter?
2. Who was Gaius? Why was he commended?
3. How did the early Christian preachers conduct the church?
4. Who usually provided entertainment for the travelling Christian brethren?

Walk In Truth
After the customary salutation of that day John began the letter by expressing concern for Gaius' health hoping it would prosper "even as they soul prospereth." Then he tells them how he rejoiced when Christian brethren had brought news of Gaius' kind acts. "Greater joy have I none than this, to hear of my children walking in the truth," meaning carrying out the love of Christ in everyday life.

Unlike the wandering Greek teachers who lectured regularly in the market places, the Christian preachers and evangelists travelled from place to place, sought the small bands of Christians, ministered to them and advised them. These small young congregations usually provided board and lodging for the travelling brethren. Thus they were able to learn more of the Gospel of Christ and to experience the joys and privileges of Christian fellowship. The guest preachers were their spiritual advisers and brought them new inspiration.

Faithful
The Elder then commends Gaius for faithful work both among the brethren of his local congregation and the strangers who have visited them. He apparently had quite a reputation for kindness and hospitality. It was necessary to extend hospitality to travelling Christians in early New Testament times for several good reasons; an undesirable class of people frequented the public inns; most of the Christians of that day were of the poorer class and unable to pay; they would not accept hospitality from pagan homes; it was the custom of the Orient to entertain strangers. Jesus said, "He that receiveth whomsoever I sendeth, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me."

Fellow-Workers
"We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers for the truth." Some of John's helpers and possibly John himself had not been well received by the local pastor, Diotrephes. This pastor had considerable influence, likely resented John's authority as elder and loved to have "pre-eminence." John speaks sharply about him for not providing for the brethren and forbidding his members to do so. Diotrephes represents the type of church member or official who must be all important, not serve on committees unless he can act as chairman. This bit of good advice comes from the writer of Hebrews, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

"He that doeth good is of God; he that doeth evil hath not seen God." Each one establishes a reputation for himself, either good or evil. Here comes the need for right action as against wrong action.

BUYING SPREE DOESN'T MEAN CRISIS IN USSR

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
London, Dec. 5 (AP)—Citizens of the Soviet Union may be on a buying spree—as American reports say—but any idea of an economic crisis in the Soviet Union is completely discounted by responsible diplomatic informants here.
The U. S. State department's "Voice of America Radio" broadcast in 23 languages from Washington said Wednesday night that a wave of "panic buying" in the U. S. S. R. had been touched off by widespread rumors of prospective price increases and devaluation of the Russian ruble.

Deer Hunter Dies Of Gunshots Wounds
Roaring Spring, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—Lloyd Detwiler McGraw, 22, of near Martinsburg, Blair county, died in Nason hospital here last night from bullet wounds suffered while on a hunting trip in Woodbury township, Bedford county.
McGraw became separated from other members of his party of eight on a deer drive. When they found him again he had rifle wounds in the abdomen.

Kremlin Secret
This time the rumors appear to have had a greater effect on the population. Whether they are true or not—whether any change actually has been planned in currency—remains the secret of the Kremlin until and if it is ready to act.
Among authorities familiar with the Soviet economy, the money problem of the Russians is said to be one of currency surplus. People have more rubles than there are goods to buy. It is this fact which has given at least a tinge of validity to the rumors. A currency change would be one way of draining off the excess from millions of pocket books and to some extent of leveling out as well as reducing available buying power.
However the situation may turn out, it has had no perceptible effect on the council of foreign ministers meeting here.
The Washington broadcast received little attention from the London press, which has been more concerned over Britain's economic plight.

cream at birthday parties and dumped ants in the sandwiches at picnics.
And because the sprouts could travel about invisibly or take on any shape they wished they were never caught or even suspected.
Mr. Sleek was always busy at these evil things but he was his very busiest at Christmas time for then he had to work very hard indeed to spread misery in children's hearts.
He sent his sprouts crawling into mailboxes to tear up letters children wrote to Santa. He put frogs in the throats of choir boys so they couldn't sing Christmas carols. He stopped up chimneys with rags and pillows so that Santa couldn't climb down. He poured boiling water on winter lakes so the ice would melt and children couldn't use their new skates.
But, as I said, all of this was long ago and before Mr. Sleek's spirit was broken. For broken it finally was and this is the story of how it happened.
One day Mr. Sleek called in his ugliest and meanest sprout whose name was Jeffrey Jeremiah.
"Jeffrey," said Mr. Sleek, "I have an idea that will forever wipe out gladness from the hearts of children."
"Tell me, tell me!" cried Jeffrey eagerly. "How can we do that?"
"It is very easily done," replied Mr. Sleek. "We have simply to get rid of Santa Claus and there will be no more Christmas for children."
"But Santa Claus!" protested Jeffrey. "He is very powerful!"

TRUMAN IS MADE A 'SUBMARINER'

Key West, Fla., Dec. 5 (AP)—President Truman, already rated as a "deep sea dunker," qualified today as a submariner in one of the brief formal appearances of his vacation at this tropical naval submarine base.
He was summoned to the surrendered German submarine, the XU-2513, to receive his scroll and plaque as a submariner by virtue of his experience here in November, 1946, when he went down 450 feet under the sea in this same under-sea craft.
The President presented medals to four naval officers. One of these, Commander George L. Street of Richmond, Va., got a gold star in lieu of a second Silver Star. The President and Street met before, at the White House, when Mr. Truman pinned the Congressional Medal of Honor on the naval officer.
Others honored were Commander I. S. Hartman, who got his gold star in lieu of a second Silver Star; and Commander G. H. Whiting and Lt. G. W. Clarke, who received Bronze Star medals.
Meanwhile, the President read aloud to his staff the address he will deliver Saturday dedicating the Everglades National park.
The President was known to consider the speech, slated to begin at 2:51 p. m. (EST) as an important conservation policy pronouncement.

Weaner's Dairy Observes "Open House" Today At Completely Modern Plant

New Plant Pasteurizes And Homogenizes Milk. Makes Ice Cream For Sale At Dairy Bar

Weaner's Dairy with its completely modern, new plant of brick, concrete, glazed tile and stainless steel, fully equipped and ready to handle more milk and turn out a higher quality and more varied list of products than ever before formally opened today.

From 1 to 10 p. m. today the Weaner establishment is observing "open house" with the public invited to visit and inspect "Adams county's most modern dairy establishment, milk bar and retail store."

Visitors will be given free ice cream and will be taken on a tour of the milk and ice cream processing departments where they may see the new up-to-date machinery in operation.

Delayed By Supplies

The new dairy establishment along the Harrisburg road, three miles north of here, was started 15 months ago and its scheduled openings have been successively delayed by slow deliveries of machinery, equipment and supplies, many of which had been on order for more than a year.

The modern milk receiving and processing plant, the ice cream manufacturing unit and the dairy bar mark a new forward step in the milk business for Weaner's dairy, veteran of nearly 50 years as milk suppliers for this community.

New Product, New Bottles

For the first time Weaner's is offering its customers pasteurized milk and their choice of "plain," homogenized or chocolate milk.

The latest delay in the opening was caused by the late arrival of the special caps for the homogenized milk bottles.

With the opening of the new plant, Weaner's dairy switches to the new "Square T" bottle that increases storage capacities at the dairy by a third—and has an equally satisfactory result in customers' refrigerators.

Licensed Tester On Duty

The new plant begins operations daily about 7:30 a. m. with the arrival of registered Holstein and some Guernsey milk from two of the four Weaner farms where approximately 90 head of producing milk cows supply the raw material for the new processing plant.

The milk is received in stainless steel tanks where it is weighed and tested by a state-licensed plant manager, Harry Miller. With equipment just installed Mr. Miller will use the Babcock system for constant tests of the butterfat content of the milk.

Formerly Adams County Cow Testing Association testers made the tests periodically at the Weaner dairy barns.

Pasteurized, Then Cooled

The milk flows through shining

The picture above shows the new Weaner's Dairy plant along the Harrisburg road, three miles north of here. The main entrance leads to the milk bar and retail store where ice cream, dairy products, hot soups and sandwiches are sold. The section of the building to the right houses the milk processing and ice cream manufacturing departments.

stainless steel pipes into the pasteurizer—also of stainless steel—where it is heated to 143 degrees and held at that temperature for a half hour. Steam heat is supplied by a new 20-horsepower boiler in another section of the plant.

From 45 minutes to one hour is consumed in the pasteurizing operation that can handle 200 gallons of milk at a time.

Then the milk—still moving through stainless steel pipes that are taken apart and steam-cleaned daily—is pumped to a cooler where it flows first over coils cooled by deep well water and then over refrigerated coils. The milk comes off the cooler at 43 degrees.

Nine Flavors Of Ice Cream

The milk to be homogenized is routed through the homogenizing machine before it reaches the cooler. From the cooler, the milk goes to the electrically operated and fully automatic bottling and capping machine that fills and caps six bottles of any size at a time. The bottles go into crates and then into refrigerators where they are held until delivery time.

The milk processing room also contains the ice cream making machine that turns out 20 quarts at a time. Nine flavors are now being produced. The freezing operation itself takes 10 to 12 minutes. Most of the ice cream making is done in the afternoons when the rush of handling the morning's milk supply is over.

In the dairy bar at the front of the new building, dairy products including the Weaner-made ice cream are on sale daily the year around. Hot soups and sandwiches also are offered along with a candy and tobacco counter. The dairy bar opened informally last August 29 but delayed equipment prevented the beginning of full operation of the new plant until today.

While the plant is brand new, the milk retail route it serves here is 50 years old. It was established a half century ago by the late C. J. Weaner, father of the present owner, Edgar W. Weaner.

Weaner's Dairy began operations April 1, 1898, with Jacob Weaner in charge. It began serving Gettysburgians milk in the days when customers came to the dairy wagon with buckets or other containers and had the milk poured out for them from large cans hauled on the horse-drawn vehicles.

Four Dairy Farms

In 1917, the present owner began driving the milk route for his father. After C. J. Weaner's death in a tragic farm accident, Edgar Weaner operated the business for four years for the Weaner estate but in 1930 he bought the milk business and (Continued on page 2)

OPPOSITION TO REDS STIFFENS IN WEST EUROPE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Thus far western Europe—with France and Italy on the firing line—has held its own, and a bit more, against the efforts of Bolshevism to take over.

Of course we just now are entering the critical winter months which will put a further terrific strain on the already impoverished resources of the war-torn continent. Still, if the economic front can be held until spring comes to the rescue, the democracies will be in a hopeful position.

Here it's significant to note that the stiffening of the French and Italian defenses is being accompanied by Russia's further consolidation of her bloc of satellite nations. For one thing Moscow has announced a new trade agreement with Finland, negotiated in a "spirit of friendly mutual understanding," under which Russia's little neighbor apparently will receive many of her essentials next year. That seems to set up strategically situated Finland which would like to be friendly with the west.

Soil Conservation Needs Coordination

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (P)—Two years of intensive soil conservation efforts in behalf of Pennsylvania's 170,000 farms "have been encouraging but far from satisfactory," the state planning board said today.

Declaring that although there are a sufficient number of agencies in the field to assist in the development of a statewide program of soil conservation, the board asserted in a 28-page analysis of the problem: "An effective overall result on a matter so important to all of the people of the state will only be possible, however, if the efforts of these various agencies are coordinated to insure effective service from each of them."

Then Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakian foreign minister, says the European states of the Russian orbit might enter a "loose regional defense agreement," in full accord with the United Nations charter, if the Big Four fail to write a German peace treaty. However, he says he doesn't think an absolute break in the London conference is likely.

So the cleavage between eastern and western Europe seems to be growing. Soviet failure to drive Communism through to the English Channel will result in two Europes—the Soviet dependencies on the eastern half and the democracies of

NEW HONORS FOR MARSHALL

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 5 (P)—Honorary membership in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was awarded Wednesday to Secretary of State George C. Marshall "for his distinguished services in military science and as chief of staff and general of the Army during the war, and as Secretary of State."

The award, made in absentia because of Marshall's attendance at the council of Foreign Ministers in London, was one of four announced at the annual dinner of the society. Others included:

Everett C. Ackart, of Wilmington, Del., chief engineer of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours company for "a successful career of 40 years in designing industrial steam plants."

Paul W. Kiefer, of New York, chief engineer of motive power and rolling stock of the New York Central railroad, received the society's highest honor, the ASME medal "for outstanding achievement in railway transportation."

Other awards included the Warner medal to Arpad L. Nadai of East Pittsburgh for "pioneer contributions of the theory of plasticity."

Traces of human occupancy of Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, date back at least 4,000 years.

since then has continued its operation alone.

Mr. Weaner now owns four farms containing 445 acres — and the operations on all of them are centered about the dairy business.

Two of the farms house the 60 head of producing milk cows, many of them descendants of registered Holsteins that through the last score of years have built top notch production records in the Weaner herd.

Railroads Asking New Freight Raise

Washington, Dec. 5 (P)—The nation's railroads want another increase in freight rates.

They asked the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday for a three per cent rate boost—which brings to 30 per cent the total asked since July.

So far they have received a temporary 10 per cent raise, while the commission studies previous requests totaling 27 per cent.

The full 30 per cent raise would add about $2,037,000,000 to the nation's freight bill. It is needed, the railroads said, because of increased operating costs due to wage boosts.

The railroads have granted 15½-cent-an-hour pay raises to members of the Conductors' and Trainmen's Brotherhoods, and other raises are pending.

More than 400,000 people visit Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico annually.

New Plant

On the two other farms young cattle not yet of milking age are pastured. Much of the produce grown on the farms goes into dairy and poultry feed—for the Weaner business also produces top quality eggs which it sells to its customers.

The Weaner herds now number about 100 animals, mostly registered Holsteins with a few Guernseys to help boost the cream content.

Helping Mr. Weaner operate the four farms and the dairy are seven hired employees—and his three sons.

The eldest, Arthur, aged 21 years, operates the milk route and keeps the books, work in which he finds his commercial training at Gettysburg high school helpful.

Seven Other Employees

His brother, Richard, aged 18 years and a graduate of the agricultural department at Gettysburg high school, is the farmer.

The third son is David, now a senior at Gettysburg high school with his future yet undecided but busy helping his father on the milk route and at the milk bar during his out-of-school hours.

Four men are employed on the farms. At the new dairy building, there is a plant manager and two women employees at the dairy bar.

MOLOTOV PLAN ADDS CONFUSION AT BIG 4 MEET

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

London, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers conference entered its second round Thurs. with western diplomats apparently confused and uncertain as a result of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's latest maneuver on the German peace treaty.

The Russian leader proposed Wednesday that his country, the United States, France and Britain should submit to the Foreign Ministers Council within two months "proposals for the fundamentals of the peace treaty for Germany."

His suggestion drew the immediate fire of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who said that if the four agreed to such an arrangement they might, just as well adjourn the London meeting at once because it is the fundamentals of German peace settlement that they are supposed to be discussing here.

Purpose A Mystery
Neither U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall nor British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made any comment, so Molotov announced that, lacking support, he would withdraw his proposal.

Soviet officials said later he had had no intention of trying to break off the London meeting.

His exact purpose, however, remained a mystery to French, British and American authorities, who shared Bidault's view that the fundamentals of the German peace treaty are an immediate concern of the current conference.

Speculations
Some western observers speculated that Molotov's suggestion had merely been put forward casually. Others, suspicious of every Russian move, sought for deeper and more devious motives.

Among the theories advanced by the latter group was the possibility that Molotov believed that should he commit the western powers to a report on the German treaty fundamentals two months hence he

Plan Ceremonies To Award Medals

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (AP)—Civic ceremonies were suggested by Adjutant General Frank A. Weber as the proper setting for presentation of World War II victory medals and American defense service medals to Pennsylvania's servicemen.

Weber directed Clyde E. Rankin, deputy adjutant general, to ask each county director of veterans affairs to serve as an issuing agent to all qualified applicants in a county, but not to attempt to set up procedure for the presentation of the medals.

The World War II medals will be given to all men who served in active federal service between December 7, 1941 and December 31, 1946. The American defense service medal will go to all who served from September 8, 1939 to December 7, 1941.

would delay any move on their part to set up a tri-zonal government in western Germany.

Another speculation was that Molotov believed the western powers would put forward tougher treaty proposals than Russia, and that this would work to Russia's advantage inside Germany.

"Pass the Buck"
At any rate yesterday's session—which adjourned early so the ministers could take tea with King George at Buckingham palace—ended discussions on preparation of the German peace treaty. The discussions, which monopolized eight meetings and about 24 hours of debate, resulted in no major agreements and the solution of no important problems.

The final decision of the foreign ministers was that the whole subject should be sent back to their deputies, who have wrestled unsuccessfully

JEWISH AGENCY SEEKS U.S. AID

Lake Success, Dec. 5 (AP)—Jewish agency officials were reported seeking means in the United States today for suppression of Arab anti-partition with the problem twice before.

This cleared the way for discussion of the Austrian independence treaty, which is the first item on the agenda for today's session beginning at 3:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. EST).

partition uprisings in Palestine and feeling out possibilities of obtaining American aid to restore order in the Holy Land.

One informed quarter said the aid was being sought included diplomatic pressure by the State department on governments of the Arab nations in the Middle East and an embargo on materials that might be used by the Arabs to further the conflict in Palestine.

There was an added suggestion, without any confirmation, that the U. S. might be asked to supply arms for defense of the Jewish nation which will result from the partitioning of Palestine.

Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish agency's political department and likely choice for foreign minister in the first cabinet of the Jewish nation, planned to go to Washington Friday to consult with U. S. government officials.

Shertok yesterday conferred privately with Secretary - General Trygve Lie after Lie had told his weekly news conference that he was considering a visit to Palestine himself early next year.

If the air were as dense at all altitudes as it is at sea level the layer of air around the earth would be about five miles thick.

TREATY TO SENATE

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—President Truman submitted the inter-American defense treaty to the Senate Thursday asking for its approval. The pact, signed September 2 in Rio de Janeiro, pledges 19 nations of the Western Hemisphere to act jointly against any aggression in the hemisphere's security zone, stretching from pole to pole and from Greenland and Alaska south to the Falklands.

The annual U. S. death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 100 to 35 per 100,000 in the past 20 years.

SMOCK FINDS 6,500 MILES OF OBSOLETE ROAD

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (AP)—Pennsylvania has 6,500 miles of "truly horse and buggy roads," State Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said today, but the Commonwealth is without sufficient funds to reconstruct them.

All of this macadam or concrete mileage was constructed prior to 1925 and designed for a comparatively light volume of traffic, he disclosed, explaining:

"From the actuarial standpoint our replacement responsibilities are enormous and far beyond our ability to finance reconstruction of such a vast mileage. Many roads become obsolete from a traffic standpoint before they actually wear out."

Modern Requirements

Smock said in a statement that the 20-foot width for two-lane pavement was not considered necessary until 1928 and that now single lanes of 2 feet each are required for three or four-lane highways.

"Easy curves and reduced grades are now demanded by passenger and commercial vehicles," he added. "Increased sight distance and wide shoulders are necessary to provide adequate safety. Specially designed intersections at grade and overpasses and underpasses are now common on the primary roads."

Turning to costs, the highways secretary explained that adequate highways constructed after World War I cost $50,000 a mile, while a two-lane concrete highway today

Mayor Lawrence Asks For Fine

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5 (AP)—Mayor David L. Lawrence, who is in the midst of a vigorous campaign against traffic violators, is planning to pay a $12 fine today that he requested for himself.

Yesterday his chauffeur parked the mayor's official car in front of city hall beside a fireplug and under a "no parking" sign.

The mayor said he was unaware of the infraction until reporters asked him to guess where they found his car. Besides requesting a summons for the offense, Lawrence said he had instructed his chauffeur to see that it doesn't happen again.

Franklin Studies Big Water Mystery

Franklin, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—Half a million gallons of water is disappearing each week in this western Pennsylvania town, and the city engineering department can't figure out where it is going.

The town's 9,948 citizens are using that much more a week than they used at this time last year.

"People can't be taking that many more baths," mused City Engineer John M. Snow. His department is conducting a hasty survey to find out where the water is going. The snow water survey also will attempt to determine whether the added consumption is being paid for.

costs from $125,000 to $150,000 a mile; three lanes, $200,000 a mile; four lanes divided, $300,000 to $500,000, and controlled access roads in urban sections from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000 a mile.

TRUMAN RESTS IN SUNNY SOUTH

Key West, Fla., Dec. 5 (AP)—A tired President Truman sought today to catch up on his sleep as he settled down to a week-end of loafing at this sun-bathed naval submarine base.

He got off to a good start Wednesday when he, in naval parlance, "hit the sack" for more than two hours shortly after flying here from Washington.

Pointing out that the President stood for an hour and 20 minutes Tuesday night shaking hands with 1,070 guests at the White House diplomatic reception, his press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters: "He needed it."

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, Mr. Truman's physician, pronounced the President in good physical trim, four pounds under top weight, but tired from strenuous work of the past few weeks. He wants the President to get "about 48 hours' sleep" during his five days here.

Except for his speech Saturday afternoon at Everglades City dedicating the new Everglades National park, the President's schedule is being kept free of engagements to permit him to devote most of his time to sleeping, sun-bathing and swimming at the beach near the old Fort Taylor club.

Mother Confesses To Extra Stamps

Elwood City, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—A Beaver Valley woman is resting more comfortably today since she received a letter of forgiveness from Leo H. Akers, former area head of the OPA.

"I had a boy that went into the army and I used his stamps," the woman wrote Akers. "I want you to forgive me as I wouldn't want a sugar stamp to keep me out of heaven."

SEEK HELP ON TAX DODGERS

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Agriculture Department appealed to Congress and the Internal Revenue Bureau Thursday to help stamp out shady transactions on the commodity exchanges by Americans and wealthy refugees seeking to dodge income taxes.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson charged that an examination of accounts on August 30 showed 646 traders with holdings of $150,000,000 involved in deals "indicating a purpose in most cases to affect tax liability."

President Truman has asked Congress for legislation to help curb speculative trading in grain and cotton on the ground that it is a factor in the high cost of living.

Anderson's blast came while Congressional committees were hearing administration and opposition arguments on such controls. Officials of the grain exchanges have entered a vigorous denial that speculation has caused commodities to soar, blaming instead government purchases for shipment abroad.

Legislation sought by the administration would permit the Agriculture Department's commodity exchange administration to fix margins on speculative transactions.

Vitamins have been shown to have an effect on some forms of insanity.

CHAMPION PRICE

Chicago, Dec. 5 (AP)—The grand champion steer of the 48th International Livestock Exposition, Big Boy, an 1,100-pound Roan short-horn, sold at auction Thurs. for $8 a pound. The bid was $2.50 a pound less than that bid for the 1946 grand champion last year. The successful bidder today was Wilson and Company, buying for the Davidson Meat company, Chicago.

STRIP MINE LAW BEING OBSERVED

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Commonwealth's new anthracite strip mine law is enjoying 100 per cent compliance, state mines secretary Richard Maize reported today.

But, he said, it's a somewhat different picture in the soft coal regions of Western Pennsylvania where 69 of 464 operators have refused to register since the bituminous strip mine act went into effect more than two years ago.

"I am well pleased with the response we've received from the anthracite operators in complying with the new law," he told a reporter. "It is very gratifying to the department of mines."

Of the 108 hard coal stripping operators who mine approximately 10,000,000 tons a year, 105 have complied with the act which requires bonds of $200 per acre to insure that spoil banks are rounded off and planted with shrubbery and that stripped areas near homes or highways are completely backfilled.

The remaining three have paid, as have the others, license fees of $25 an acre but still must post the bonds. The department anticipates receipt of the bonds momentarily.

Inaction awaiting the outcome of a test of the constitutionality of the 1945 bituminous strip mining law was advanced by Maize as the reason for failure of complete compliance among soft coal strippers.

Tea plants begin to yield commercial crops about five years after planting and sometimes continue to yield for 100 years or more.

Democratic Society To Pick Chairmen

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (AP)—County chairmen for the newly organized Democratic Society of Pennsylvania will be named shortly in Adams, Franklin and Perry counties.

Joseph J. Yanko, executive director of the society, said that a Central Pennsylvania unit was formed Tuesday, made up of representatives from Adams, Dauphin, Cumberland, Perry, and Franklin counties.

Yanko said R. Marlin Eckert, of Mechanicsburg, had been named Cumberland county chairman for the society, and Willard B. Freeland, Halifax, was named as Dauphin county chairman.

The society plans an educational campaign aimed at getting potential voters registered so that they may be eligible to vote at next fall's election.

which are beginning in the current issue of Life magazine.

Edward has had little to say for himself since the December day 11 years ago when he broadcast to a stunned world that he was abandoning the throne of his fathers for the woman he loved. Because of this, his story is likely to be received with mixed emotions in an England where as heir to the throne he was the beloved Prince Charming, and later as king was held in deepest affection by his subjects until his abdication produced a shock that time hasn't alleviated.

"Britain's Golden Hour"

The duke observes in his first article that the time of his birth was "Britain's Golden Hour." He adds:

"Income tax was measured in the pence on pound sterling. Socialism was scarcely more than a theory. The first telephone had been installed in a royal residence only four years previously, and eight years would pass before my father acquired his first motor car. . . It was hard to imagine that anything could shake the structure of the Englishman's world."

Well, the Englishman's world—along with the worlds of other peoples—has been rudely shaken. And it fell to Edward himself to rock the throne at an ill-starred time for monarchies. Whether this will have any lasting effect is something which only the future will disclose.

Was Trained, Popular

There are, of course, several aspects of the abdication but what troubles the average Briton most is that Edward should quit his post under any circumstances. Tradition says that since a king is born to his high position he belongs to the people. He may not abandon his task. So in the code of the playing fields of England, Edward had let his side down—and he was captain of the team. That was bad for team spirit.

Edward was probably the most popular Prince of Wales ever to hear the fateful words which have rung down through the ages: "The king is dead, long live the king." He is credited with being the best trained heir ever to don the crown. He had traveled widely in the dominions and knew his people better than almost any other Briton.

Moreover, Edward had endeared himself by the gallant part he played in World War I. As war correspondent I was constantly about his headquarters in France, and knew of the risks he insisted on taking in order to do his bit. He didn't let his side down then. He emerged from the war as the outstanding figure in the empire.

Mixed Emotions

Edward could have made a great name for himself as king—and his services would have been invaluable in the trying times which followed on the heels of his abdication. This may sound strange in view of the fact that the British monarchy is constitutional and the sovereign theoretically has no power. However, an astute king does have much influence by virtue of his vast knowledge of the empire and commonwealth. His ministers of state constantly seek his advice, because frequently he knows far more than they about a situation.

Yes, I think England will read Edward's articles with mixed emotions. I'll bet a shiny sixpence that deep in their hearts the people still love him, though they blame him for the circumstances of the abdication—which reminds us that the Good Book records: "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth."

TB DEATH TOLL CUT IN, PENNA.

Harrisburg, Dec. 5 (AP)—The death toll from tuberculosis in Pennsylvania has been cut more than 60 per cent during the past 40 years but there are still close to 3,000 persons falling victim to this dread disease each year.

Department of Health records for 1906, the first year that vital statistics were kept in the Commonwealth, show 5,253 deaths from tuberculosis. Last year the total was 3,616.

Reports from the Bureau of Vital Statistics for the present year show that in the first seven months of 1947 there were 2,026 deaths from tuberculosis, with a strong possibility that in the last five months of the year the total will pass the 3,600 mark.

The reduction can be traced to the constant fight that the department and private agencies are waging against the disease that is listed as the number one killer in the age group from 18 to 34.

The department has directed its campaign along two fronts, with both resulting in marked success against the disease. Mobile X-ray units, which move to all parts of the state, are equipped to test all persons for traces of the disease. Much is accomplished at 34 pneumothorax clinics situated at strategic points throughout the state.

More than 25 per cent of all foods used by Americans are dairy products.

True hail occurs only in warm weather.

Boycott Called Economic Cancer

Philadelphia, Dec. 5 (AP)—Any boycott resulting from intolerance is a cancer in the economic body of the nation, Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, told members of the Golden Slipper Square club last night.

"Hollywood has held open the door of opportunity to every man and woman who could meet its technical and artistic standards regardless of racial backgrounds or religious beliefs," Johnston said in accepting the 1947 humanitarian award given by the Motion Picture Association to Dore Schary, vice president of RKO Pictures in charge of production.

Schary was honored for his contribution to good citizenship and promotion of understanding among all peoples, particularly in his production of "Crossfire."

HS Alumni Plan Christmas Party

The recently reorganized Littlestown high school Alumni association met Wednesday evening in the post home of the V. F. W., West King street, with the president, Marvin Breighner, presiding. Miss Jean Yealy presented the secretary's report.

Kenneth Halter reported for the Christmas party committee and stated that it had been the intention of the committee to hold a Christmas party in the Richard McAllister hotel, Hanover, but upon investigation they learned that there was no open date. Therefore, another committee consisting of the Misses Dorothy Applier and Doris LeGore was appointed to contact the Ladies' Aid of Redeemer's Reformed church to ascertain whether they would serve a dinner to the Alumni association.

It was also decided to present a play in the near future. A committee consisting of Miss Lydia Sentz, Harold Sentz and Miss Vivian Dutera was appointed to arrange for this project.

Wilbur A. Bankert was elected honorary president of the association. The next meeting will be held at the call of the president.

Troop No. 15, Girl Scouts met Wednesday evening in the Fire hall. It was decided to hold a Christmas party, Friday, December 19 at the home of the leader, Miss Doris LeGore, North Queen street. Names were selected for the exchange of gifts at the party.

SERVICES FOR CPL. PALMER TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Funeral services for Corporal Richard Miller Palmer, Technician 5th Grade, will be held from the Little funeral parlor, Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of his pastor, the Rev. John C. Brumbach. Interment will be made in the Christ Reformed church cemetery near here.

Cpl. Palmer was the son of Lee E. and Augusta (nee Miller) Palmer and was born in Union township, Adams county, October 29, 1916. He was baptized January 28, 1917, by the late Rev. Dr. P. S. Lindaman and was confirmed a member of Christ Reformed church, March 20, 1932 by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Hartman. He was also a member of Christ Reformed Sunday school.

Mr. Palmer received his early education in the schools of Union township, graduating in 1931. He continued his education in the Littlestown high school from which he graduated in 1935, being president of his class.

Was School Teacher

His higher education was received at State teachers college, Millersville, Pa., graduating from there with the class of 1939. He continued his education in Elizabethtown, Pa., college from which he received his master's degree in 1940.

Mr. Palmer taught school three years before going into military service, one year at the State Ridge school and two years at Ash Grove, both schools being in Germany town-ship.

He entered military service May 1st, 1941, having been inducted at Fort Meade, Md. He received his training at Fredericksburg, Va., Camp Blanding, Fla., the Carlisle Barracks and in South Carolina. Cpl. Palmer spent one year and ten months in England before the great invasion. On May 28, 1944, he wrote the last letter to his pastor, in which, between the lines, the latter read that Palmer was conscious that the day for the great invasion was almost at hand. He was killed in action in France, June 6, 1944, D-Day, at the age of 27 years. His parents were notified of his death about six weeks later.

Held Memorial Services

A large attended memorial service was held in Christ church, September 24, 1944. Cpl. Palmer was the second of four young men from Christ Church to pay the supreme price on the field of battle. His parents later received his Purple Heart award.

His body arrived in the U. S.

aboard the Army transport Robert Burns which docked at N. Y. Nov. 23 and will arrive in Littlestown from Philadelphia on the Saturday morning train.

Palmer is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer, Union township, and two brothers: Arthur, Telford, Pa., and J. Leonard, Hanover.

The military rites at the grave will be in charge of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion and the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW. The pallbearers, likewise, will be furnished by these two servicemen's organizations.
